STANLEY LEAD JUMPS TO OVER 40,000

GOODPASTER IN LEAD; BLACK IS CLAIMING HE WINS. COHEN AND KEENON ARE ONLY CERTAIN ONES ON BIG TICKET.

Louisville, Aug. 10.—The Times fixes Stanley's majority at 42,800; the Post says it may go to 45,000. The official count will be in Frankfort on Friday. On the face of the returns the Louisville afternoon papers agree Goodpaster is probably nominated for treasurer. Eubanks seems to have the best of it over Gilbert for superintendent of public instruction; the nomination of Keenon over Stegar for clerk of the court of appeals is probable and Cohen for commissioner of agriculture is certain.

For state auditor the Post says Greene leads Rhea slightly. The Times gives Greene a plurality of 10,748 with ninety-nine counties reporting, but says Rhea is still claiming the nomination by a plurality of 2500.

For secretary of state the Post says it seems Hamlett is nominated. The Times gives him a lead of 3000 but declares the winner depends on the official returns.

For lieutenant governor the Post says Black's nomination is indicated. Black is claiming it by 4000. The Times says 108 counties gives Edwards a lead of 1000 but that an official count is necessary.

Mrs. S. A. Enoch and grandson, Lester Paris, left last week for Sikeston, Mo., to visit relatives.

Farmers Get Stung

In A New Place.

A man and a woman dropped into a small town and put up at the best hotel. The next morning they secured a rig each, and started over the country asking the farmer folks for a chicken for an orphan's home in St. Louis. After two days begging they sold the chicks to a local produce man for $30 and left town. Their loot included several cash donations.

A variation of the scheme is for a man wearing some sort of a badge, to call on the farmers under the name of the department of health, and demand to see his poultry. After examination he condemns twenty or thirty hens and tells the farmer they will have to be killed because they are diseased. He very kindly offers to take the chickens and do the killing himself. If the farmer consents, the man takes the chickens to the nearest commission merchant and sells them. The scheme is being worked all over the country. If a man or woman calls on you with a demand that looks suspicious, call up your local authorities and ask by what right they are asking to inspect your stock of poultry. When you get the answer turn them over to the police.—Providence Enterprise.

COMPLAINT IS FILED

The Mayor and City Council, after having tried for many months to compel the connecting up and usage of toll wires through the exchange office of the Central Home & Telegraph Company, and the Cumberland Telephone & Telegraph Company, have filed a complaint with the Railroad Commission, setting out the reason why such connection is desired.

Among other reasons given in the written statement filed with the commission are the following "Our local exchange is owned and operated by the Central Home Telephone & Telegraph Company, and the long distance service by a toll station owned and operated by the Cumberland Telephone & Telegraph Company, in the Press building upstairs and while the citizens generally have the Home phones in their residences, offices and places of their business, in order to send and receive long distance messages they are forced both day and night to go to the long distance station and frequently forced to remain there for fifteen minutes to an hour."

As yet no date has been fixed by the commission for the hearing of the application.—The Twice-A-Week Leader.

Men Empties Bottle of Ink Over Women.

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 7.—Because she was unable to decipher his scrawled handwriting, Frank Spaulding, age forty years, late yesterday afternoon emptied a bottle of ink over Miss Lettie B. Underwood, telegraph operator in charge of the branch office in the lobby of the Seelbach Hotel. Spaulding, who resides at 767 South Eighteenth street, is said to have been drinking. After insulting Miss Underwood he left the hotel and entered the Waterson Hotel lobby half a block away. The booze that prompted his act caused him to fall asleep. He was arrested and a charge of assault and battery placed against him at the jail.

Complete returns from the election are coming in slowly, but as far as we can gather the following will be the nominees of the Democratic party:

For Governor A. O. Stanley, of Henderson, Kentucky; for Lieutenant Governor James D. Black Barbourville, Ky., for Secretary of State Barksdale Hamlett Hopkinsville, Ky., for Auditor of Public Accounts Robt. L.
